

As I travel up and down Interstate 5 highway, from California through Oregon to Washington, I always listen to K-LOVE Radio on its various frequencies through this territory. It is invaluable being able to keep listening to the same positive and uplifting radio station throughout my trips instead of losing reception and having to hunt for other wild stations with negative messages, and those with only a short transmission range as I travel. Therefore, please allow the K-LOVE radio network to continue and not be displaced by LPFM broadcasters. Thanks you for caring about traveling listeners.
